Samara Aviation and Industrial Machine Building Technical. School named after D.I.Kozlov.

My name is Rimuru Tempest, 22 years old. I've been working with Unity for a little over two years.

My projects have been released on platforms such as Google Play, Yandex Games, and itch.io. I have experience in both team and independent game development, which includes designing documentation, creating technical tasks in Trello, project architecture, game infrastructure, as well as packaging and ASO optimization.

I have successfully collaborated with artists and art creators, assisting them in their work and optimizing the materials prepared. Additionally, I have experience in mentoring and developing young programmers.
